CLAYTON: Well, all the focus on the war in Iran has been focused on oil supremacy and energy shocks and the control of the Strait of Hormuz. But what is actually going on with Iran? In fact, turns out that this whole plan for Iran and taking over this area has gone back decades, in fact, to early 2000s. According to our next guest, who's written extensively about this, Dr. Michael Salla, the plan for Iran started as early as 2001, the early 2000s. Was this even on your radar back then?

He has uncovered evidence that the powers that be have been using ground penetrating radar have identified all sorts of ancient sites, including stargates, and perhaps giants that have been buried in some of these deep underground caverns inside of Iran. Is that really the story for why there is such this focus on regime change, destroying the government, bombing this country with deep bunker busting bombs, and then sending in special forces to try to capture the radioactive dust as President Trump has called it?

Or is it all tied to these ancient artifacts buried beneath the country of Iran? We wanted to bring in Dr. Michael Salla, who's written this great piece over at exopolitics.org about the battle for these ancient technologies, these stargates and giants, which dates back to 2001. Dr. Great to see you.

DR. SALLA: Thanks, Clayton, for having me back.

CLAYTON: My pleasure. So, I think a lot of people think, well, maybe this is just a few years old, and going after the country of Iran regime change, it's just something that's kind of popped up in the past few months, February's when we launched this attack with the help of Israel, but you make the point that this goes back decades.
DR. SALLA: That's right. Yes, I think it's very important that we look at this evidence that the plans for attacking Iran predate the current Netanyahu administration that came into power in 2022 and has a very extremist perspective on relations with its neighboring countries. And of course, you get the whole greater Israel project, and people say that, well, Donald Trump is really aiding and abetting that because he's captured by the Zionist lobby. But the truth is that plans for attacking Iran go way beyond or way before a Netanyahu regime, that they actually began during the regime of Ehud Barak back in early 2001, and Ariel Chiron, which was when the two-state solution was being planned.
And this is very well established by General Wesley Clark, the former Supreme Allied Commander of the European Forces, a four-star general, who says that after the 9-11 attacks, he went to the Pentagon to see one of his former subordinates who was now a general in charge of a major command. And that this general told him that there were plans to attack seven Middle East nations that would culminate in an attack on Iran. So this was in 2001.
GEN. WESLEY CLARK: This is a memo that describes how we're going to take out seven countries in five years, starting with Iraq and then Syria, Lebanon, Libya, Somalia, Sudan, and finishing off Iran.
DR. SALLA: So we're talking 25 years ago, well before the Greater Israel Project was being championed by Netanyahu and his cronies. So, I believe that that's evidence, that something else was happening at that time that made the powers that be placed Iran along with other countries such as Iraq, Syria, Libya, Somalia, and so forth on the radar as countries where it was a priority for the US to get involved in a way where they would be able to get boots on the ground or have access to that country's resources.
And this coincides with the development of new generation of ground-penetrating radar established on satellites, where now for the first time the US military intelligence community was getting accurate data on what laid beneath the ground in all of these countries. And I believe that what they saw was what it was that led to this plan to attack Iran along with other plans for a future Gog and MaGog End Times war.

CLAYTON: So, what do you believe that they saw with this ground-penetrating radar?

DR. SALLA: Well, what they saw were anomalies, the ground-penetrating radar. I mean, ground-penetrating radar has been around for many decades. In 1972, for example, the Apollo 17 mission used ground-penetrating radar on one of its satellites, while on the Moon orbiting Apollo mission to be able to peer up to 1.3 kilometers below the surface of the Moon.

CLAYTON: And to be clear, it's not finding, because I know people in the comments have said, well, Clayton, you have to remember ground-penetrating radar is not finding objects, it's finding maybe gaps or anomalies, right? Is that to you? So, just so we're specific. It's not going to show a body or, but it could show the outline of something that's very odd.

DR. SALLA: That's exactly right. Yes, it will show changes in the different mediums as you penetrate the ground. And as far as stargates, giants, stasis chambers of concern, ancient technologies of concern, all these are associated with space-time anomalies. And those space-time anomalies was what it was that the ground-penetrating radar was able to pick up. They would still have to send in teams to find out what exactly was in those anomalies that they detected underground. And so, for example, they detected anomalies under the ground in Iraq, and then shortly after, the same anomaly showed up underground in Romania.

And what they, what we do know is that this, there was a military satellite used to identify these anomalies under both Iraq and Romania. And that was in the early 2000s. And under Romania and Iraq, they found these space-time anomalies. They found hall of records that date back many millennia, and they found portals in both of those locations.

And in particular, what we know a lot about the Romanian discovery, because there was a whistleblower that came forward by the name of Radu Cinamar. That's a pseudonym he uses. But he described in a series of book called Transylvania and Sunrise what it was that they discovered in this anomaly under Romania. And the same thing was found in Iraq, and that there were portals leading in, and, but essentially, they had to send in actual troops because the ground-penetrating just identifies an anomaly.

So then you have to send in specialized forces who were trained to be able to access these anomalies because they can be very dangerous. Anything that impacts space-time, they found that only certain people could access these kinds of anomalies.

And so they found that when they sent in the initial teams, the soldiers would be, in some cases, negatively impacted. And so they would have to choose people, people who had a particular consciousness, who could access these anomalies.

So that's what happened in Romania. And the same thing was happening in Iraq at the same time, which led to, and actually, I did write about this back in 2003, when I first got involved in this field of exopolitics, that there was this space-timer anomaly or a Stargate or a portal more accurately in Iraq.

And that was why they went into Iraq in 2003. And that's kind of like substantiated by the behavior of US special forces who established the presence around this area called what they discovered, the tomb of Gilgamesh. And they established a marine base right over it.

And this is where they began to dig. And they encountered essentially a stasis chamber with Gilgamesh. And there was also Stargate or a portal that they were seeking information on. So yes, all this goes back to the early 2000s.

CLAYTON: So just to unpack all of that, that's a heavy dose to handle. So there's a military, so we know in Iraq, there's a US marine base built on top of a stasis chamber and portal or a Stargate space where they started to dig.

DR. SALLA: Well, that's right. They found that there was a team of German archaeologists that found the tomb of Gilgamesh.

And after the US invasion of Iraq, the Marine Corp established the base right over that area. And of course, that was a cover for US special forces to be able to go in and kind of look around what was down there. And that's where I believe that they came across some of these ancient artifacts associated with Gilgamesh, who in the Sumerian records was this demigod.

And I believe what they found was a stasis chamber that is a kind of like a technology that kind of like distorts space time. So people or giants that get into it can be perfectly preserved for thousands of years.

CLAYTON: And so these stasis chambers, we have evidence that the US military has access to these stasis chambers through whistleblowers and others who have seen this and have been sort of adversely affected by it. Do I have that right? And maybe you can talk more about what these stasis chambers actually do.

DR. SALLA: Well, these stasis chambers, I mean, they essentially warp space times so that whoever gets into that chamber just goes to sleep. And for them, they might be sleeping for a few hours. But when they wake up thousands of years pass by.

And it's important to point out that records for these stasis chambers go all the way back to the 13th century. You have Marco Polo describing in one of his books that he came across a stasis, well, three stasis chambers in Iran, where you had the perfectly preserved bodies of the Magi. These were the three, I guess, wise men that visited Jesus at the time of his birth.

And Marco Polo says that he saw the bodies in these tombs that were perfectly preserved. And he saw their hair, their beards, and they were perfectly preserved. And so these are Magi were asleep. And this is the kind of technology that was made available to the elites.

And by elites, we're talking about people and giants that go back many, many millennia. And the giants, of course, you have the Old Testament talking about giants. You have many cultures talking about giants existing in times, ancient times.

And many of these giants appeared to go into these stasis chambers, this kind of technology that would perfectly preserve their body all the way back to the fall of Atlantis. And their bodies have been perfectly preserved for thousands of years, well over 12,000 years. And many of them have been discovered using these ground penetrating radar technologies.

CLAYTON: Are they pretty much the same? Like when they find one of these stasis chambers, is it well recognized within maybe the powerful within the United States and the sort of a secret space program that these things are look the same pretty much across the board?

DR. SALLA: Well, they totally understand the technology. I mean, they're associated with a stone sarcophagus. And this that's one of the things about stone. There's particular types of stone that's actually a former technology. And you find those in many sarcophagi all over the world in Malta, in Egypt.

And these were used to preserve bodies for extended periods. And so they do recognize the technology. And these giants, they were being discovered by special forces and you've interviewed JP former US Army. And he in one of his missions encountered one of these giants that he was part of a 10 man mission.

And he did this 14 foot sarcophagus. And inside it was this huge giant who was a sleep perfectly preserved red hair, very long beard that kind of like stretched out. And that and this giant woke up during that mission that he woke up and he moved on. And so there have been many, many other stories.

CLAYTON: Hold on. I was about to ask you. So when they find them, they're perfectly preserved. We've also interviewed Timothy Alberino on this subject who's studied extensively and what the US government knows about these giants. He's written books on it. I mean, he certainly traveled around the world to uncover this and what people had photographs of these giants. So when they were awakened, or if like special forces are awakening these giants, when you say they move, they're moving on, are they like going through this portal and traversing?

DR. SALLA: What is happening to them? Well, the giant says they're waking up. I mean, they have certain abilities and knowledge that allows them to activate the technologies near the sarcophagus or the stasis chamber. And so they're able to move through portals. I mean, they're able to create space time portals.

And this is something that was well established during the Montauk project. You go back to 1971 to 1984, where when the Montauk project was created, I mean, there was something called the Montauk chair and people who got into that chair, which was essentially something that had been retrieved from a spacecraft. They got into that chair. Their mind was enhanced so that they could manifest things.
And one of the things that could be done through that chair was to be able to create a portal. And through that portal, you could move from one place to another.
So it's the same thing for these giants. I mean, they would be also technologies that they could access and they could move very, very rapidly. Again, this is something that's described in the Radu Cinamar book series, Transylvania Sunrise, where there's a book two in the series describes the inner earth.
And it says that the inner earth is filled with all of these portals where you travel from one place to another or from one underground city to another through a portal that instantaneously takes you there. And that this is known to the global elite, but has been kept from the rest of the population.
So we don't know about these portals, but those who have access to the knowledge, they're able to identify where the portals are and to be able to use them for instantaneous travel anywhere around the planet.
CLAYTON: So that's why they would want to go to war in Iran, because these portals are just incredibly powerful. Maybe you could just talk a little bit more about this technology, the space-time portals, and what specifically the US would want with those inside of Iran. And how many do you think there are three of, like according to Marco Polo, you mentioned that there were three different locations of these sarcophagi with giants, right? Three, if I'm not mistaken, is that similar to the portal in the same room?
DR. SALLA: Well, the technology that Marco Polo saw was these sarcophagi with the three Magi in them.

So these were magicians or these were people with incredible knowledge at the time. So the nessals weren't giants, but the technology is similar to these sarcophagi, these giant sarcophagi found all over the world. And in Egypt today, you can go to places where they have these giant sarcophagi. And they don't know what they were for. They thought that they were for kind of like bulls, preserving bulls, which is ridiculous, that these were actually for giants.

So this is a technology that is distributed all over the world, and that the special forces people understand how these technologies can be used.

And so when they began identifying those space-time anomalies in all these different countries, including Iran, they had to get access to prevent the government or the, and of course, all of those seven countries identified by Wesley Clark back in 2001, they were all authoritarian regimes.

And so the US special forces along with high-level members of the Freemasons, this is where you get the secret societies come in, because the secret societies, they have access to this knowledge and to this ancient technology. They know all about it. It's handed down from generation to generation in Freemasons and other secret societies.

So what was done was that these secret societies, they would monitor developments in terms of where these anomalies were being found, and then they would pressure the United States government to come up with a rationale for taking over that country, forcing that country to do something like join NATO, which is what happened in the case of Romania. But in the case of Saddam Hussein, there was no chance that he would kind of like hand over this technology, so they came up with the war.

So this is where we get the real culprit for these wars. It's not so much elected politicians such as Netanyahu. It's really the secret societies such as the Freemasons who understand the significance of these space-time anomalies, portals, giants, and they want to get control over those. And so they come with just the patience or pressure political representatives to come up with the rationale for why they need to invade that country.

CLAYTON: So with Romania, for instance, is the United States still in charge of the portal that was discovered in Romania? Do we have like a military presence there that they the government just allows the United States or NATO to just sit upon?
DR. SALLA: Totally, yes. The United States has established a huge military presence in Romania. The Romanian government is under the tight control of NATO and the secret societies, the Freemasons in particular, and the whole of the portals associated with the Bucegi mountains in Romania, all of that has been heavily suppressed. In fact, I went to Romania in 2004 and we got to meet with some people that know, Radu Cinamar, the author of the Transylvania book series, but he wanted to meet with us, but he was warned against it and because he was told that the information is being suppressed.
So they're putting a lockdown on all of this information coming up. They don't want the world to know that there are these ancient halls of records in Romania, in Egypt, in Tibet, and other places around the world that have ancient records that stretch back to the Atlantean and pre- Atlantean era, and that you have these portals that connect these different sites. So there's portal connecting Romania with Iraq, with Tibet, with Egypt, and Iran figures into all of that.
CLAYTON: So you could literally walk into one of these portals and be transported from Iraq right to Romania.
DR. SALLA: Correct. Yes, you essentially are able to access that portal. There needs to be a particular frequency and consciousness to open up that portal and work and once they've done that then it becomes much easier for people to just travel through these portals. And are they adversely affected?
CLAYTON: So when US Special Forces as you mentioned had sort of stumbled across these sarcophagi, these portals, these space-time portals, there's like adverse effects on their health.
DR. SALLA: Yes, that can happen for people who don't have the right frequency or consciousness, which is why they recruit contactees, which is why they recruit people like JP because these are people who have the frequency and consciousness so that they can interact with these ancient technologies, portals and so forth safely. I mean, to give you an example, with the Montauk Project, there are estimates of anywhere between 100,000 to 300,000 children that were experimented on in the Montauk Project and only a handful of those survived. One of them is Stewart Swerdlow, who I've interviewed several times and he's a Montauk survivor and he talked about these kinds of experiments and what he was involved in in terms of time travel and so forth.

So they were doing all of this in Montauk Long Island, but they found that adults, for example, had a difficult time being able to move through these space-time anomalies. So they work with children and they had to perfect the technology and so they experimented with a lot of orphans, a lot of homeless children and once they perfected the technology, it became much easier or safer for special forces people to be able to go through these technologies.

So now they've pretty much mastered the technology for being able to travel through portals. They know what's required, they know what people they need to have with them and they now know where many of these portals are showing up in the ancient technology and an Iran is now on their radar as a place that they absolutely have to get into because they believe that this technology is being discovered by the Iranians in their underground construction projects.

CLAYTON: So I was about to ask you, are the Iranians fully aware of this technology and they would absolutely want to keep that away from the United States and Israel and other enemies, so to speak, or are they still in the dark about a lot of this technology?

DR. SALLA: Well, I mean, they're discovering this technology as they dig their underground missile production facilities and uranium and Richmond plants. They're going deeper and deeper because they understand that that's the only way to protect themselves from the smart weapons that the US and Israel has.

So they've been going deeper and deeper and as they go down, they encounter these ancient sites and it's on the record there. There are underground cities in Iran that's part of the public record now. They've discovered some of these underground cities, but they go deeper than that and as they go deeper, they encounter an ancient underground tunnel system and this tunnel system goes back many thousands of years and it's quite extensive.

So they're finding all of this and they're finding the artifacts and they're starting to find the anomalies and the Iranians don't know about these themselves because I mean, it's a fairly new regime. So they're called in the Chinese. So the Chinese have been helping the Iranians with their underground construction projects, but that's where the Chinese and the Iranians are finding these portals, artifacts, stasis chambers, and the Chinese are getting access to this.
And so this is why now the US is being pressured or was well, the Trump administration was pressured to go forward with this invasion. And I don't believe it has. I mean, the surface justification is of course, while Iran is on the verge of developing nuclear weapons and that Iran's missile production is a threat to the region and of course oil, they want to have access to the oil.
But the real reason is because I think the Trump administration is being pressured behind the scenes to get in the get their kind of boots on the ground or special forces in to take control of these underground locations. Recently, and you and I were talking CLAYTON: offline about this, a former employee at OpenAI, chat GPT, basically is now blowing the whistle on Sam Altman, claiming that he's been building portals and summoning aliens using artificial intelligence, kind of a shocking admission. But I think, and I don't know if it's demonic or what it is, but he says the report, the portals are reportedly located in the United States in China with a new one that they've added in the Middle East, and that they're basically building these portals. And that's what OpenAI and Sam Altman are doing, basically summoning aliens. Any truth to this at all?
DR. SALLA: Well, I think that this is touches on a very important point that the creation of a portal where people can move through space time or aliens could come into our world through space time is something that's been discovered many years ago, and that either through things such as torsion fields, establishing torsion fields.

So for example, if you have a linear accelerator and you spin plasma around at a very high rate, you start generating space time anomalies. High voltage electrostatic charges can also be used for generating these kinds of portal effects. There's also sacred geometry, arranging things in a particular geometric pattern can also create these portals.

So people in secret societies have known about this, especially when it comes to sacred geometry. And if you look at the Freemasons, I mean, they've known about portals for a long time. I mean, using pentagrams, for example, pentagrams and circles with crystals and chanting and so forth, that opens up a portal for aliens or what people call them demons. But these are really aliens, in particular reptilians who can come through.

And so I think what Sam Altman may have discovered is through his kind of like experiments or research, he's discovered one of these ways of being able to create a portal and to have beings show up. And the beings that show up are very willing to show up if they're from say a world, another world or say reptilian beings from the inner earth. And they see a human who's pretty naive doesn't know the consequences of what they're doing. They'll show up and they can take advantage of that human and the situation, which is again, why there is this kind of like urgency to prevent the Iranians doing this in a way that could lead to some aliens or aggressive aliens coming through these portals, creating all kinds of problems.

CLAYTON: You know, David Icke,, of course, one of his big messages is about the reptilians, who in many ways control us to his point, really nefarious things and sort of created this simulation. But one of his big, of course, messages is about AI and the biological fusion of AI and this control with really it's the control mechanism to control all of us.

And so when I hear this story about reptilians that you're just telling me, and Sam Altman and chat, she PT and artificial intelligence, like all of that starts to come together and coalesce. Am I wrong? Am I seeing it incorrectly?

DR. SALLA: There definitely is a connection between all of those things. I mean, the reptilians, I mean, they are an ancient race. I mean, they're both indigenous to the planet earth and of course, they have civilizations in other worlds. And they know about these technologies, they understand how portals work. They also have advanced technologies like starships and so forth. But the but the ones that humanity interacts with a lot of the time they're here through portals that they understand how to use these portal systems.

And of course that means that they can, for example, very easily intimidate any world ruler. You can imagine being a king, whether an ancient king or a modern king and some eight foot tall reptilian comes through a portal into your sleeping chambers and says to you, well, you're going to work for me now.

And that king or that president or that leader they don't really have any choice because these reptilians, they understand how to use these portals to be able to travel all over the place.

And there's a kind of like battle, if you like, between white hats, people who want to kind of like ensure that these technologies are not misused or that you don't have these off world species or indigenous reptilians, kind of like generating undue control over the rest of humanity. And so yes, you get the white hats kind of like stepping in, trying to control all of that. So yes, so that's why I think you have Iran.

CLAYTON: So one of the things that I have been fascinated about as it relates to these portals is time travel. And there seems to be a wealth of knowledge within the United States government about time travel and the fact in these portal rooms that are set up for time travel. Now speaking to secret space program insiders who've witnessed these rooms specifically in the United States where they walk into a room and there's multiple doors within this chamber with different dates on each door, for instance, the year 2050, 2090, 1940.

And what these witnesses have said is they witness human beings kind of walking in and out wearing clothing from that time period. As if they're going on a mission, they're coming out of those doors. Almost think of it like grand central station in a way. Where you're going to this subway, you're going to that subway train, you're going to track one track three track four. But it's in these large sort of time travel rooms. What do you know about these rooms?

And do you have any idea where they might be located? I know there's at least one maybe in the United States. And I've been trying to get information as to where this is located. Of course, it's highly classified. But maybe you have some insight into these portal time travel rooms that the US government knows about.
DR. SALLA: Well, we know that in the Montauk project on Long Island camp here in particular back in the 1970s that they developed these kinds of time travel technologies and that they were being used to send people back to conduct espionage in the past to observe what was going on in those eras. And you mentioned a whistleblower who saw a military facility where there were four rooms and each one would go into a particular period of time, 1550 for example, and then 1940 and 2050 and 29 years as you mentioned.
And so that was another facility in the United States. I've had other whistleblowers who have identified places in New Mexico, Arizona, Pasadena in California where these time travel technologies and portal technologies can be located.
So there's a close relationship between portals and time travel because again, your warping space and time. So you can either travel back in time or travel through space to another location.
So there's multiple locations in the US where these portals connect. And also in the inner earth as I mentioned, there's an extensive portal system that is used by inner earth beings. I mean, they're able to travel throughout the world just by understanding the portal system. There's a kind of system of portals and there's Ley lines that are used for being able to travel the portal system.
And so you have these ancient civilizations that live under the earth that can use this portal system. You have on this surface of the earth, you have members of these secret societies that know how to use the portal system. You have like, in the earth reptilian beings that know how to use the portal system.
And so you also have now kind of like special projects where these portals are studied and understood. And they are very much kind of like connected to the earth as a kind of like energy grid that this gets us into the idea that the earth has like 12 major stargates, which is very interesting that the earth is like a physical body where you have like 12 chakras. People describe anywhere from seven to 12 chakras. And these are all energy conduits.

So the planet earth is similar that you have these chakras and they connect each of these stargates connect to a different dimension or a different world. So this is where you actually have off world travel. And that the chakras are all over the planet earth. And that the portals are kind of like a derivative of that that you can connect the portals with this chakra system. So it's quite complex, but people was the projects that use the portal system. They understand how this works.
CLAYTON: So to wrap it up, when you look at Iran, and you look at this war, and you hear about the threats, of course, of like boots on the ground, and we're going to bomb you into oblivion and all of these things that rhetoric over the past few weeks. And who knows, like when people see this interview, this may have already happened, but the threat of US boots on the ground, do you think that that's an inevitability that there would be some sort of US force in order to obtain access to these portals?
DR. SALLA: I think that that's really where we're heading, that there's going to be boots on the ground. Now, of course, that can be done in two ways. You know, one would be some kind of invasion, and you have military forces in different areas of Iran. And that that's a cover for the Special Forces teams to go underground and to be able to kind of like access what's there in Iran.
The other way, which I think is what President Trump was signaling very recently last Friday, when he was saying that, while we've reached an agreement with Iran, and they've agreed to us going with them and finding the uranium dust and bringing it to the United States. If you read between the lines, I think what is really what is really saying here is that what they're seeking is an agreement with the Iranians where US Special Forces people can go in there with the Iranians into these places where all the with the Iranians have been finding these ancient artifacts and they want to be able to bring those to the United States. And in return, the Iranians will get some kind of material benefit.

So essentially, I think what Trump is trying to do is kind of like pull a Venezuela here and get the Iranians to do what the Venezuelans did, which was to shift from being allied with China to now being allied with the US and getting access to these underground locations.
And this is where you get the kind of like, within Iran, you have deep divisions between the theocratic governing system and those that connected with kind of like earlier, that they're more connected with the ancient Persian culture, that aren't necessarily Muslims or maybe they're nominal Muslims, but they're more connected to the Persian culture and zoroastrianism.
And so they're the ones that are more likely to want to work with the Trump administration, because they understand that there'll be proper respect for what's found.
CLAYTON: It's fascinating. You know, it's like, you always have to go below the headlines, below the stories, because there's it's what they're not telling us for sure. Dr. Michael Salla, great to see you. People can read more about your work over at exopolitics.org and your analysis of this. And look at all of the evidence themselves. Thank you so much, Michael.
DR. SALLA: Great to see you. Thanks for having me, Clayton.

The Battle for Ancient Technologies, Stargates and Giants in Iran dates back to 2001-salla https://rumble.com/v78ijmc 60m 4-16-2026

What if the real reason behind the conflict with Iran has nothing to do with oil, nuclear weapons, or politics? In this explosive Exo-Politics commentary, Dr. Michael Salla reveals a hidden agenda involving ancient underground cities, lost technologies, stargates, giants in stasis chambers, and a decades-old plan to target Iran. From General Wesley Clark's "7 countries in 5 years" revelation to claims of buried Anunnaki technology beneath Iran, this video explores the deeper forces allegedly driving world events. Topics covered: General Wesley Clark's Pentagon memo

The "7 nations" war plan
Ancient stargates beneath Iraq and Iran
Underground cities and hidden tunnel systems
The Abadan Stargate theory
Anunnaki, giants, and stasis chambers
Why Iran may be the final piece of the puzzle

[Lots of homonym misspellings in this one]

Dr. Salla: The war against Iran has its roots in events linked to the 9-11 terrorist attacks in 2001. General Wesley Clark described how seven Middle East nations were going to be attacked. Who masked the 9-11 attacks in future Middle East wars that culminated with Iran? Was it to ferment a Gog and MaGog End Times war or to find ancient artifacts such as stargates hidden in secret underground locations?

Welcome to this Exopolitics commentary and I'm going to be talking about Iran. And I'm going to give you an Exopolitical perspective which is very different to the geopolitical perspectives on what's happening with Iran that you find coming from many conventional academics and political pundits who essentially say, and you can look at critics such as Tucker Carlson and others who basically see this conflict as one where Donald Trump has been manipulated into attacking Iran because of the manipulation of the Prime Minister of Israel Benjamin Netanyahu.

And the thinking goes that Israel has this greater Israel project or agenda and that they threw the influence of billionaires in the United States who have funded the Trump campaign and kind of own Donald Trump to an extent that they're able to manipulate him to really pursue an agenda that promotes Israel's interests over the United States interests. And so many who are critical of Donald Trump who are part of the MAGA movement in particular are now saying that Trump is putting Israel's interests above the US and so they say that US interests really don't benefit at all by what's happening in Iran which really only helps the Israelis.

So this is where we get into what's the real agenda behind the Iran war. Is it because Benjamin Netanyahu is pushing for it or is there something deeper going on? What I want to do is play a video clip from 2001 or actually 2000 and the early 2000s,, but concerns General Wesley Clark who was commenting about going to the Pentagon and being told that there would be attacks on seven nations including Iran. And this happened back in 2001 just after the 9-11 alleged terrorist attacks. So even back then there were plans for attacks on Iran that had nothing to do with Donald Trump. So let's listen to General Wesley Clark and what he has to say about the Iran war.

Gen. Clark: About ten days after 9-11 I went through the Pentagon and I saw Secretary Rumsfeld and Deputy Secretary Wolfowitz. I went downstairs just to sell over to some of the people on the joint staff who used to work for me and one of the generals called me and he said sir you've got to come in and talk to me a second. I said well you're too busy. He said no no. He says we've made the decision we're going to war with Iraq. This was honor about the 20th of September.

I said we're going to war with Iraq. Why? He said I don't know. He said I guess they don't know what else to do. So I said well did they find some information collecting Saddam to al-Qaeda? He said no no. He says there's nothing new that way. They just made the decision to go to war with Iraq. He said I guess it's like we don't know what to do about terrorists,, but we've got a good military and we can take down governments. And he said I guess if the only two of you have is a hammer every problem has to look like a nail.

Dr. Salla: Now on the subject of Iraq back in 2003 I was putting out the thesis that the Iraq war was really all about stargates and that the search for weapons of mass destruction were really all about the search for these hidden Iranian stargates or portals that date back to the Anunnaki. And that's something that I wrote about in my first exopolitics book that was published in 2004 so that's 22 years ago and that's exopolitics political implications of the extraterrestrial presence.

And the paper I wrote about that it's still available on my website for free exopolitics.org so you can go there and go to the archives. And you can see my paper on the exopolitical perspective on the Iraq war where I talk about the stargates. And that paper was the most popular paper I had written on my exopolitics website for even to the modern day just because it was addressing something that a lot of people hadn't thought about that there were these stargates that really underlie the invasion of Iraq.

And since that time there have been a lot of others that have talked about stargates in Iran so I was really among the first to talk about that back in 2003 when it happened which is when I wrote my paper. So let me continue with a general clerk.

Gen. Clark: I came back to see him a few weeks later and by that time we were bombing in Afghanistan I said are we still going to war with Iraq and he said oh it's worse than that. He said he reached over on his desk he picked up a piece of paper he said I just got this down from upstairs meaning the secretary of defense office today and he said this is a memo that describes how we're going to take out seven countries in five years starting with Iraq and then Syria, Lebanon, Libya, Somalia, Sudan and finishing off Iran.

Dr. Salla: Okay so you know right there you have the critical statement by General Clark that there were seven nations and that these spanned the collection of countries that since 2001 had collapsed or where the US has gone to war, Iraq, Somalia, Syria, Libya and finally ending with Iran.

I mean Iran was the final piece of the puzzle. So this is where we really need to kind of look at what is it about Iran that made it the final state in this sequence of seven that would follow up after Afghanistan and as I said already one of those states Iraq was where there was a search for this Stargate, these Stargates or ancient artifacts that were written in Iraq, Cuneiform texts that described the workings of ancient technologies including things like Stargates.

So what is it about these seven countries that culminated in Iran that made them very significant as far as those behind the planning for this eventual invasion or attack on Iran that traces back to 2001. You know again way before I mean more than 20 years before well actually not quite 20 years, but 15 years before Donald Trump would win the presidency in 2016. So this is where we get another aspect of all of this which is something called the Anglo-Saxon mission.

Now this was a whistleblower who came forward. He was a commander with the Britain's Royal Navy and he was spilling the beans to Bill Ryan and Kerry Cassidy about something called the Anglo-Saxon mission. And so this was in 2010 and what he revealed and you can find the details on this webpage, the Anglo-Saxon mission and that's on projectbabylon.net. So just do a search, Google search, projectbabylon, Anglo-Saxon mission that will take you to this page.

You can listen and or actually you can read the transcript of the interview or the summary of what Bill Ryan had to say about this Navy commander who essentially joined the city of London after his Navy career came to an end and because he was someone that had reached that rank of commander for some reason the people in the city of London thought that he was one of them in terms of being an insider associated with organizations like the Freemasons and so they shared a lot of information with him and they talked about the plan for a future war, a Gog and MaGog End Times war involving Iran and essentially they described a sequence of events that would culminate in attacks against Iran that would expand with other countries coming into aid Iran such as China and that that would eventually lead to a regional war where there would be nuclear weapons used and so forth.

So that was that meeting where the future plan for Iran took place was in 2005 according to the Anglo-Saxon mission that Bill Ryan and Kerry Cassidy talked about back in 2010 so they identified 2005 or they were told by this Navy commander that was 2005 when this plan was set in place and he talked about a lot of other things such as secret space programs and so forth and they believed that he was the real deal and certainly I think this was very credible testimony by a high level insider within the British establishment who had a position in the city of London which really is a very powerful entity within the British political system totally separate to the regular political establishment in England in terms of the parliament or London city itself.

But this little area called the City of London this is where these plans were being laid so that was in 2005 so you had this kind of plan for an End Times war and that involved countries many countries seven countries such as Iran now this is where we get into looking at well what possibly justified this what was the real agenda to this this is where there's a book by Ashayana Deane called Voyagers, Volumes one and two that came out around 2002 2003 and she in a book or book two or volume two of the voyagers series she said something about what it was that was making countries such as Iran of great interest to the deep state.

So that future attacks would happen against Iran so on page 378 of her voyagers book this is what she wrote quote areas such as Pakistan Iraq and Iran are territories housing key access sites to the coveted Stargate 10 so these areas as well as others will be preliminary zones of conquest that the united intruder resistance UIR will attempt to secure under UIR illuminati governance so what she was saying was that these seven countries which included Iraq and Iran that these were zones of conquest to the illuminati and that they had an interest in getting control over these countries because clearly they had some ancient technologies there that were of great need or significance and that she specifically talked about something called Stargate 10.

Now in her book she identified this the city of Abadan as the place where this Stargate 10 was located now the city of Abadan in Iran it's actually on the border between Iran and Iraq and it's very close to Kuwait and it's really it's an island and it has been a place that's been fought over by different empires over the over the decades including the Ottoman Empire and the Iranian state and so in 1847 the Ottoman Empire ceded the city of Abadan to Iran or the nation of what we now consider to be Iran, but was also known as Persia at the time and later in the early 1900s it was discovered that Abadan had abundant oil reserves and in fact in the early 1900s it became the largest producer of oil in that region and during the Iraq-Iran war from 1980 to 1988 it was attacked by Iraq and it was besieged for the entire length of the war so for eight years the city of Abadan in Iran was besieged by Iraqi military forces who were trying to take control now what's interesting is that at that time Iraq was being aided by the Western nations and Iran was really kind of like going on its own.

It really didn't have many supporters because the Iranian revolution we had the mullahs come in meant that it was something that was really not a natural ally for many countries such as the Soviet Union or China that that practiced communism so Abadan is supposed to be a place where you have this stargate according to the Ashayana Deane material all right so we now know or feel that okay maybe there's something like ancient technology in Iran that may be sought after by the Illuminati or the Deep State have they been seeking these technologies well this is where we would get into Iran's development of underground missile silos because Iran saw what happened to Iraq after the 2003 war.

They saw what happened to Libya in the during the Obama administration they saw what happened to Syria they the Iranian regime recognized that there really was no sense in building military installations on the surface which could be taken out by smart weapons or precision guided weapons that the United States and its allies possessed so if you were going to resist the agenda of the US or of the Illuminati that worked with the United States then you would need to build underground facilities to do that and so that's exactly what Iran did so here's a video that I want to show that really describes what the Iranians did in terms of developing underground missile sites I'll just read the subtitles for you.

So this is talking about Iran's secret underground missile facilities and that the US and Israel have been targeting these bunkers missile bunkers Iran spent years building underground missile bunkers, but the US Israeli strikes now challenge this US and Israel aircraft and drones are targeting missile launchers emerging from subterranean Iranian bases heavy bomber strikes have damaged bunker entrances trapping missile systems and launchers satellite images so destroyed Iranian missiles and launches near entrances of secret subterranean missile sites.

So you know what this video is really telling us is that Iran built the secret underground missile sites and these places are being targeted by the US and Israel in the current military campaign and even though there's a ceasefire at the moment, but they were being targeted over the last month by US and Israeli precision guided weapons now the thing to keep in mind here is that what this does is it tells us that the Iranians went to great lengths to building these underground sites in tunnels or building an extensive tunnel system where these sites these missile sites would be held.

So this is where we get into the idea of the Iranians actually finding things during their excavations of these tunnel systems so you can imagine Iranian engineers being ordered to excavate certain underground areas because they want to build a missile silo there or an underground facility that will host missiles so they start building and what they find is ancient artifacts so this is where we get into the whole idea that the Iranians found some really advanced artifacts in Iran and that they discovered an ancient tunnel system that was linked to the ancient civilizations of Persia and even earlier and that these tunnel systems were filled with these artifacts that were of great relevance to earlier Iranian civilizations such as the Sasanian Empire from 224 to 651 AD or even earlier such as the Persian Empire from 550 to 330 BC.

Now the thing to keep in mind here is that there were underground cities associated with these ancient civilizations so we know this because these ancient cities were found by archaeologists so here's another video that I want to share with you that discusses the discovery of one of these ancient underground kind of like cities or tunnel systems that had been built in an earlier empire so here is that video that we can see this in Raj beneath the desert the underground city of Nushabad in Iran might not be as famous as that in the Rinkwe in Turkey or the Edinburgh walls in the UK, but it is as much of an architectural wonder the three story settlement is 23 meters deep and has a labyrinth of corridors, tunnels, canals and chambers filled with the hidden pasted ways and booby traps.

But perhaps the most surprising of all is its complex ventilation system the U-shaped tunnels allow air from outside to circulate making it possible for people to stay inside for long periods the construction of Nushabad in central Iran dates back around 1500 years to the Sasanian Empire, but because it was discovered only recently many of the city's secrets are yet to be unveiled strong engineering behind the structure they dug the walls of 12 meters beneath the ground corridors take you to the rooms that people were hiding in.

There are also tunnels for air circulation and drain water at the end of each space there is a narrow tunnel that links two different spaces the hidden entrances were built under a tandoor or kitchen of houses at the end of the tunnel there is a well that is connected to the canal this lets people access to water and it functions as air ventilation and purifying system it was also used as a way to escape if the enemy could come inside the underground city while some archaeologists like Zara Saruhani try to uncover how the underground city was built others are working on why there are many theories on the city's origins.

But the most widely accepted reason is that it was to ensure the survival of people in the area as people alright well so we have an idea here of this ancient underground city in Iran that was discovered and of course that was the news of that became kind of world news, but that was not very deep that particular city now this is where we get into the idea that the Iranians discovered deeper tunnel systems and ancient civilizations that go way back in time before the Sasanian Empire in the kind of 200 and 300 AD this is something that I've discussed in the past in interviews with people like Gene Decode where we talk about an ancient tunnel system that goes down very deep and that this was used by various ancient civilizations that were pre-flood.

This is where you get the ancient artifacts this is where you get the Atlantean artifacts this is where you get some very advanced technologies that are much more advanced than anything we know about in open society and so the Iranians found all of this as they're digging down as they're building their missiles silos as they're building their tunnel systems so that they can have production facilities for missiles and nuclear enrichment and all of those things that they want to keep away from the eyes of the west and protect them from potential attacks by the US and Israel they're finding all of these ancient technologies or they're finding these ancient cities and in them they're finding the technologies that were widely used in that civilization and the deeper they go they're finding older and older civilizations.

With each civilization they find older technologies that date way back in the centuries so this is where we get into the idea that some of these civilizations in Iran were connected to the Anunnaki Now the ancient Persians and the Sasanian Empire and prior to them they worshipped a god called Ahura Mazda so here's the deity the Supreme deity in Zoroastrianism so that was the state religion of the Persian Empire and the Sasanian Empire and you can see this depiction of Ahura Mazda with the winged the winged with the wings and obviously some kind of flying machine or god that Ahura Mazda was equated with and so this takes us to similar depictions of the Anunnaki in Sumerian records and so what we know looking at this ancient artwork depicting Ahura Mazda is that he was very likely an Anunnaki and the Anunnaki as we know from multiple Sumerian tablets brought with them ancient technologies.

The Book of Enoch talked about the fallen angels and the technologies that they brought with them the fallen angels or the watchers were the Anunnaki and they had all kinds of advanced technologies that they shared with humanity and so these ancient civilizations that were associated with Zoroastrianism they worshipped one of the Anunnaki called Ahura Mazda now I think Ahura Mazda was clearly an Anunnaki and he made available to these ancient civilizations some of the technologies some of the advanced technologies that we read about in Sumerian texts that were really very advanced and brought about a rapid kind of like a development of the Sumerian civilization and civilizations around them such as the Acadians and the Babylonians and eventually the Persians.

Also what we can kind of like deduce from all of this is that this ancient technology it was hidden after these civilizations disappeared that there were people that took this technology with them into these underground cities for safety because of wars or barbarians coming in and kind of like overwhelming that city and so the technologies from these ancient civilizations they were stored in these underground areas and the deeper you go the more you would find advanced technologies so I think the deeper the civilizations the layers are the more advanced the technology dating all the way back to the pre-flood area.

Now in the Zoroastrian religion you have on the one hand Ahura Mazda the god of light and you also have someone called Araman who is depicted as this kind of like devilish or monstrous being and you can see in this particular piece of artwork King Darius fighting against this monster and I think what this monster represented is the Draconians and what we have here is a depiction of what the struggle was back in those ancient times when you had the Persians or the Sumerians where there was this battle between light and darkness where on the one hand you had the Anunnaki the say Ahura Mazda and on the other hand you had the Draconian Empire you had these reptilian looking beings and that there would be wars or struggles between the Draconians and the Anunnaki that was the battle between light and darkness and I think this is something that would give us an idea for what it was that led to these civilizations growing quickly or expanding with advanced technologies because the Anunnaki such as Ahura Mazda would give peoples in an area such as Iran advanced technologies and they would develop quickly.

Then eventually you would have these warriors or these invasions by neighboring peoples who would come in and they would be supported by say the Draconians to overwhelm that civilization and so that civilization as they're facing defeat by these warriors associated with the Draconians that ancient civilization would go underground and take their best technologies with them and hide them in underground locations for future dates or for the future and so this is where you find these ancient technologies in these tunnel systems now you also find something else in these tunnel systems which is these ancient chambers and so these stasis chambers is where you have these giants buried in these underground locations so it wasn't just advanced technologies you would also find giants in stasis chambers who were in fact related in some way to the Anunnaki and these giants possessed the knowledge of the ancient technologies and that they would know how to utilize or use these technologies.

So here's an example of one of these stasis chambers being found in Iran so here is a video that came out back around 2012 and it concerned the discovery of this ancient tomb and the perfectly preserved body of a magician in Iran so this is the video I'm muted because there's nothing that really comes through, but what you can see here is the perfectly preserved body of a being who is claimed to be 12,000 years old so this being goes back to the pre-flood area presumably he was a great king or great magician that was someone of great power and significance and in this case the magicians of this being in the stasis chamber that was discovered was known as the mage yaromir and he was discovered in Iran.

So what you're seeing here is a video of this perfectly preserved being who is as old as 12,000 years so what that shows is that technology existed these stasis chambers existed where people whether we're talking about giants or whether we're talking about people of great stature whether it's a great king or a great magician or a giant they could get him into one of these stasis chambers and their bodies would be perfectly preserved for thousands of years and so how prevalent is this how widespread are these stasis chambers that have been found in places like Iran?

Well here is something that was described by Marco Polo back in 1300 when he wrote his book on the diversity of the world and so what he wrote in his book back then which was over 700 years ago he wrote Persia is a large country and in ancient times it was even larger and more powerful, but now the Tatars have ravaged and plundered it so back in 1300 Persia was just a kind of shell of what it once was, but it was still pretty big there is a city here called Saba from which the three wise men came to worship Jesus Christ they are buried in three large beautiful tombs above each grave is a square building and all three are identical and well maintained the bodies of the Magi are completely intact with their hair and beards one Magi was named Belteza another gas bar and the third Melchior so here you have Marco Polo writing in the 1300s about these tombs that he had seen in Iran where these perfectly preserved bodies of magicians or Magi that stretched way back in time you know we are talking 1300.

So he is saying well over a thousand years to the time of Christ that these Magi were the same Magi that were described in the New Testament and so this is where you get confirmation that there are these ancient technologies of Stasis chambers or tombs where beings whether we are talking kings, magicians, giants can hop into these and be preserved for thousands of years and Marco Polo confirmed that in 1300 and there have been other confirmations of these Stasis chambers are being found I know for example a contactee Jerry Wills who was involved or had information about the discovery of 100 Stasis chambers with giants in them in Greece and that these Stasis chambers were essentially taken over by the deep state and because they were discovered during a kind of like some construction work in Athens, Greece.

JP from a US army also described coming across some Stasis chambers with giants in them and he is described one of these Stasis giants is actually waking up after he and the team, he was part of the team of 10 man team and that there were other teams from Brazil and Africa that went into this underground location unnamed and they saw a big chamber with a giant in there and there was some event that forced them to flee that area and when they came back the giant was gone and there is an example there of this giant being awakened so this is where we get into the idea that many of these giants are now waking up and that is what happened is that the Iranians and their Chinese allies are finding these Stasis chambers and whether they seek to activate them or whether or not the discovery marks a time of awakening that these chambers are being stimulated in some way by the Iranians .

When they do their deep underground construction work and they are coming across these advanced technologies or these Stasis chambers with giants or magicians in them they come across those and they activate them and so when they activate them the being that is awakened is someone that has knowledge of advanced technologies and also it may be a magician with great psychic abilities or powers or a giant who has demigod powers and so the Iranians are finding these beings and I presume that this is something that is being known or has been discovered by the covert military or the deep state.

So this is where we get into the information that was revealed by the Radu Cinamar series of books where he talked about the inner earth and that the inner earth was a place where you have a lot of underground tunnels and hidden chambers and halls of records and so forth and so these are being discovered and so in Romania in 2003 in the Transylvania Sunrise series of books by Radu Cinamar he describes one of these halls of records being discovered in Romania and at the same time they discovered a similar one in Iraq and of course in 2003 you have the Iraq invasion well in the case of Romania you didn't have an invasion what you had instead was Romania voluntarily joining NATO.

And of course that's when the American presence came in and so what is described in the Radu cinema series of books is that there was this development of radar penetrating technology so with this development of radar so ground penetrating radar technology they were able to discover these ancient tunnel systems and ancient artifacts or facilities under the ground so that was in 2003 so that kind of like helps us get an idea for why it was that back in 2001 that the deep state came up with this idea of invading these seven middle eastern countries because back at that time the development of ground penetrating radar technologies and overflights of the Middle East led to them discovering these hidden chambers.

So the Illuminati and the covert programs in the United States understood the significance of these discoveries and so they came up with a plan for essentially justifying military invasions of these different countries and so that's why I think you had this connection between the Iraq or white this connection between the 2001 terrorist attacks in New York and Washington DC and the plan that was announced to Pentagon General secretly to attack seven Middle East countries that at that time the Illuminati the US military using breakthrough ground penetrating radar were able to identify ancient technologies and in these tunnel systems or these deep facilities such as halls of records or ancient artifacts or chambers that were being found all over the Middle East and they had to come up with a way of justifying why they could go into these and so I think this gives us an understanding of what it is that's really driving the Trump administration in launching the attack on Iran.

There are questions about Iran's development of enriched uranium and that may be easily converted into a nuclear weapons program if and when they decide to develop nuclear weapons, but it seems that the Iranians up until this time have been more interested in developing the capacity to quickly develop nuclear weapons as opposed to actually being committed to developing nuclear weapons I mean that's an important distinction that the Iranians want the capacity to do it, but up until the present time and that may have changed there they just they weren't doing it because there was this fat wire by their former supreme leader not to develop nuclear weapons now under the son of the former leader that may soon change or maybe it already has changed and of course the Iranians are certainly developing underground missile facilities that can be used for attacks on Israel and US allies in the Middle East,.

But I think the justification for the Iran war to remove these missile facilities in underground regions throughout Iran or to take out or find the enriched uranium that the Iranians have that that is just a kind of like a superficial explanation that's accepted by many for why the US has intervened and I think people like Tucker Carlson who criticized Donald Trump based on their understanding of what's driving the Iranian war it's entirely understandable why they're very critical, but what I've presented to you in this commentary is a deeper understanding that the plan to attack Iran and the other countries that were part of that list of seven nations were predate Donald Trump by more than a decade this is a long term plan because there were covert military and Illuminati sources that wanted to gain a foothold in these different countries because they understood that there were ancient technologies that were being found by whether it was the Iranians or the Iraqis or before that the Libyans and the Syrians and so forth.

That they needed to take control of these areas so I think when it comes to understanding the Iran war we really need to consider the exopolitical dimension that there are these ancient underground artifacts tunnel systems, stargates, giant remains in the Stasis chambers where these giants are perfectly preserved and when they discovered these giants are being awakened and as they awaken they bring with them this knowledge of ancient civilization and also technologies powerful advanced technologies that date back to Atlantis if not earlier and some of these technologies are even more powerful than anything possessed by the deep state.

So now you can understand why the deep state or the military intelligence community secret space programs the Illuminati are very concerned about regimes such as Iran today discovering these ancient sites discovering giants discovering stargates and using that for their own interests.

I think at the end of the day what we have here is a kind of like a network of military intelligence communities such as the US and the Russians working together or collaborating to make sure these kinds of technologies don't fall into the hands of regimes or administrations or people who don't know the power of these technologies or might be inadvertently taken over or might allow some of these negative forces to come in I mean I mentioned the Anunnaki I mean you also have the reptilians the Draco reptilians.

They knew how to access these stargates imagine if the Iranians awakened a giant who was working with the Draconians or with the Anunnaki and he used that knowledge to open up a stargate where the Anunnaki or the Draconian came in all of a sudden we would be faced with a planetary emergency where these advanced beings using these advanced technologies in a country like Iran that allied with them or worship them as the returning god or gods.

This is why I think we need to consider that in developing a better understanding of what really is driving the Iran war that's not to say I condone or justify what the US and Israel has been doing I think the Israelis they have their own interests in this joint operation with the US and with the Trump administration for going in I think the while the Trump administration is probably more focused I would think on finding these advanced technologies that would be in the interests of the white hats.

I think the Israelis are probably more interested in destroying the capacities of Iran and leading to its collapse as a functioning nation state. So I think you have a diversions of interests and whereas the US really just wants to get access to Iran so that it could go underground and find these or gain access to these underground locations where all of these artifacts are being found as opposed to the Israelis that really want to destroy Iran's the Iranian state because they want Iran to collapse because that would help the greater Israel project so I certainly don't support that, but I do understand why the Trump administration would justify its actions in Iran
